Complete freedom for Plug and Play

Switches with modules that are interchangeable give the perfect combination of electrical accessories to suit your guest's special needs. Discerning hotel guests are aware of the latest technologies and usually bring along their own communication and entertainment devices while travelling. They naturally want to be able to use them during their stay in the hotel via the In-Room-System, like those at home in their living-space. Why not excite them by giving them the complete freedom for plug and play? Our customizable media hub that is latest in power and connectivity facilitates this requirement and adds a new dimension to in-room entertainment.
